HOT HOLLYWOOD

Judd (in NYC March 16) said therapy gave her the chance to "speak, fight and grieve, and be consoled."

Ashley Judd will not be silenced. In a powerful essay for the website Mic, the In-surgent actress, 46, opened up about being abused at age 16. "I am a survivor of sexual assault, rape and incest," she wrote March 19. "[In the summer of 1984,] I experienced two rapes by an adult and systematic molestation from another adult, who also had another man in the room watching . . . to undermine me in the event I tried to report the incident." But today, the L.A. native, who began therapy in 2006, says she has transformed from "undefended and vulnerable victim" to "empowered survivor."

ASHLEY JUDD

'I AM A SURVIVOR'

TAKING ACTION She's also a fighter. On March 15, the University of Kentucky alum and avid basketball fan faced a flood of harassment after tweeting that the Arkansas Razorback team was "playing dirty." Confronted with misogynistic tweets calling her a "whore" and a "c--t" and threatening sexual violence, Judd, who lives in Tennessee and is estranged from husband Dario Franchitti, now plans to press charges. "Online harassers use the slightest excuse (or no excuse at all) to dismember our personhood," she added in the essay. "I am handing it back over to those of you who are unafraid to speak out against abuse. . . . We have much to discuss and much action to take."

SUKI WATERHOUSE & BRADLEY COOPER

Back on the Market

» Suki Waterhouse and Bradley Cooper were facing miles of problems. "He's filming, and she's always traveling," says a source of the British model turned actress, 23, and the actor, 40, who split after two years of dating. "Hanging out every few weeks just wasn't enough." But there is one silver lining: more time with the guys. On March 18, Cooper went clubbing in Las Vegas with Arms and the Dudes costars Jonah Hill and Miles Teller.

» He gained four Grammys and lost 14 pounds! Sam Smith, 22, says he worked with a U.K. nutritionist (and Prince Charles' former assistant!) to drop "over a stone" in just two weeks. Amelia Freer "transformed my relationship with food," he posted March 17, holding her low-sugar, high-protein diet book, Eat. Nourish. Glow. "It's not even about weight loss," says Smith. "It's about feeling happy."

STRANGER THAN FICTION!

Only one of these shows is fake. Can you pass the reality check?

BORN IN THE WILD

Giving new meaning to "natural birth," moms-to-be deliver babies outdoors, — and miles from any hospital.

WALK OF SHAME SHUTTLE

Partiers get a ride home the morning after. Whoever shares the most de-bauched story wins the title of "Trainwreck of the Week."

I PITY THE TOOL

No more jibber-jabber: In this renovation-themed series, Mr. T aids construction workers in overhauling suburban family homes.

IT TAKES A CHURCH

A popular gospel singer teams up with congregations across the country to play matchmaker to unsuspecting single members. Amen!

I LOVE MY SELFIE

Contestants must take selfies in a range of awkward and hilarious settings, all for the chance to see their faces on a Times Square billboard.

ALOHA VET

Mahalo, medicine! A Hawaiian veterinarian walks, flies — and even swims! — to get to his ailing domesticated and wild patients.

WHAT'S IN MY BAG?

Scorpion's Katharine McPhee, 31, cracks open her carryall

One problem she can't solve: keeping her Louis Vuitton purse organized. "It takes too much work!" says the star of the CBS crime drama (Mondays at 9 P.M.). "My bag is so cluttered. I'll find five ponytail holders and a bunch of change at the bottom." The American Idol alum, dating costar Elyes Gabel, 31, lets Us rummage around.

BARE MINIMUM

"When I'm not working, I try not to wear a lot of makeup. I use Laura Mercier under-eye concealer and Rimmel London's Wonder'Lash mascara. It has argan oil in it, so it hydrates my eyelashes."

A NOVEL IDEA

"One of my New Year's resolutions was to read more. I just got The Curious Incident of the Dog in the Night-Time. I want to see the play, so I figured I'd read the book first!"

THIS SICK BEAT

"Music is huge for me, so I always carry my tiny iHome speaker. I take it from the gym to my trailer. I love listening to pop, especially Taylor Swift."

DON'T SWEAT IT

"We work long hours on set, so the crew gives out Ban Total Refresh wipes. I'm obsessed, and I always have them with me to help stay fresh and clean."

CHOW HOUND

"I bring my Chihuahua, Larry, with me everywhere. He loves this expensive food called Orijens, so I make sure to carry a plastic baggie of his snacks. He's my baby!"

25 Things You Don't Know About Me

Let's hug it out!
The Entourage alum,
49, opens up for Us

1. While doing a school play with my niece Pearl [McKay, 10], she turned to me and said, "Do you think this is fun for me?"
2. I've done yoga for 20 years and still don't know what I'm doing.
3. I have a viciously mediocre meditation practice.
4. I learned to play the drums in Cuba. I've been four times. Don't tell.
5. I still run lines with my mom, Joyce.
6. I was a line-backer on my high school football team.

Mr. Selfridge returns to PBS' Masterpiece March 29 at 9 P.M.

7. I was born in NYC and grew up in Chi-town.
8. I once asked Michael Jordan, "Have you let the healing begin since you were snubbed at the Oscars for Space Jam?"
9. I didn't dress up for Halloween this year and was told I had an awesome Tom Ford costume.

10. I'm an excellent tipper.

11. Mike Tyson

- told me I look like the "captain of the Jewish debate team."
12. I have very ticklish feet.
 13. I'm obsessed with the new social media app Spin My Planet.

14. My favorite movie is Apocalypse Now.
15. I've always wanted to go to Cambodia. Hopefully, I can make it happen soon.

16. I'm a huge UFC fan.

17. At the time I played George on an episode of Seinfeld, I had never seen the show.

18. Bulletproof coffee is my favorite for waking up in the morning.

19. I can do the splits.

20. William H. Macy was my babysitter.

21. The character of Ari on Entourage was intended to be a small "fringe" character.

22. I went to summer camp almost every year as a kid.

23. I enjoy a good cigar.

24. The Piven Theatre Workshop, where I studied, partners with Off the Street Club to let kids from the West Side of Chicago do improv and theater games for free.

25. When I still lived at home, my father directed himself in a production of Macbeth, with my mother playing Lady Macbeth and me as Malcolm.

NAME REVEAL!

» After three months of playing coy, Ryan Reynolds finally went public with the moniker he and wife Blake Lively, 27, chose for their daughter. "It's Butternut Summersquash," the Woman in Gold actor, 38, joked on Today March 20 before confirming the widespread rumor about the name. "It's James."

"I didn't want to be . . . screaming it out," Reynolds (with Lively) explained.

A promotional poster for the TV show Salem. The background is a dark, smoky sky filled with numerous witches in 17th-century attire. Many of the witches are floating in the air, some holding flaming torches. In the center, a woman with long, dark, curly hair and a black lace dress holds a thick rope that forms a large loop. She is looking directly at the camera with a serious expression. Other witches are visible in the foreground and background, some looking up, some looking forward. The overall tone is dark and mysterious.

— WE HAD TO —

MAKE THEM SMALL

INGREDIENTS:

1 pkg. Jimmy Dean® Regular
Flavor Pork Sausage Roll
1 cup fresh chopped mushrooms
1/2 cup chopped green bell pepper
10 eggs
1/4 cup milk
1/4 teaspoon ground black pepper
1 cup (4 ounces) shredded
cheddar cheese
1/2 cup sliced green onions

DIRECTIONS:

1. PREHEAT oven to 350°F. Cook sausage, mushrooms and bell pepper in large skillet over medium-high heat 8-10 min. or until sausage is thoroughly cooked, stirring frequently; drain.
2. BEAT eggs, milk and black pepper in large bowl with wire whisk until well blended. Stir in sausage mixture, cheese and green onion. Line cupcake pans with 16 baking liners. Spoon mixture evenly into baking cups.
3. BAKE 18-22 min. or until toothpick inserted in center comes out clean. Let stand 5 min. before serving.

PREP TIME: 15 min.

BAKE TIME: 22 min.

COOK'S TIP: Use parchment paper for cupcake liners.

"I've got a smile on my face, so we're good," says the 33-year-old star of E!'s Christina Milian: Turned Up. The rapper, 32, recently built her a campfire on a Malibu beach. "Just the two of us," she says, "talking for hours. The coolest thing I've ever experienced."

Brad's Big Surprise

To celebrate their 12th anniversary March 15, Brad Paisley, 42, ambushed Kimberly Williams-Paisley! "We did a campy vow renewal at a friend's house," the actress, 43, told Us at a March 18 Alzheimer's Association gala. She wore a gown picked by a pal, and Kevin Nealon officiated. "We're parents now, so the night ended with a bedtime story."

They have two sons, Huck, 8, and Jasper, 5.

The couple (in 2014) have dated for two years.

Peter & Jaimie New York Engagement

Peter Facinelli's March 16 proposal was a high point for Jaimie Alexander. "Top of the world with my love," the Thor actress, 31, wrote on Instagram after their engagement at NYC's Empire State Building. She knew the American Odyssey actor, 41, had a plan, says a pal, "but was still overwhelmed!"

ROB KARDASHIAN

'He's in a Dark Place'

The reality star disses sis Kim with a disturbing pic

Rob Kardashian socked sister Kim, 34, with a bizarre insult March 22, comparing her to a murderous sociopath. "This is my sister kim , the bitch from Gone Girl," the hosiery designer, 28, posted on Instagram alongside a still of blood-spattered star Rosamund Pike (near right). A family source says that Rob, struggling with depression and weight gain, lashed out at Kim after the pair taped a scene for E!'s Keeping Up With the Kardashians that weekend. "Rob's in a dark place. Kim told him he needs to get out of his funk," says the insider. According to a second source, Rob feels Kim is two-faced: "His post was about how she seems caring in public, but he feels ignored."

"It's not Kim's personality to nurture" Rob (in 2013), says a source. "She loves him, but she's direct."

Taking a spring break: Miley Cyrus has kept her distance from love of four months Patrick Schwarzenegger since photos of the University of Southern California junior embracing a bikini-clad brunette in Cabo San Lucas, Mexico, surfaced. Though the 21-year-old proclaimed his innocence via Twitter March 16, "Miley has been giving Patrick the cold shoulder," says a Schwarzenegger pal. "He's been trying to see her in person to explain, but she's traveling." While another source says the two "have been in contact," the singer, 22, isn't quite ready to forgive: She's been posting photos on Instagram of herself partying in Las Vegas and at the SXSW festival in Texas. Says the pal, "She wants to make him jealous."

JASON & BRITTANY'S WEDDING

Country ON THE Caribbean

No shoes. No ties. Lots of tears! Nashville star Aldean and Kerr invite Us inside their casual seaside vows

BY SARAH GROSSBART
& CARA SPRUNK

"I love waking up with her every day," Aldean tells Us of his bride.

"I feel like the luckiest woman, to marry my best friend," Kerr (March 21 in Mexico) tells Us.

Jason Aldean couldn't stand to spend even one night away from his bride. For weeks, the country music star had tried to talk fiancée Brittany Kerr out of her plan to follow tradition and sleep separately the night before their March 21 vows ("I wanted to build anticipation for the walk down the aisle," she explains). And after their rehearsal dinner, she finally relented. "We don't like being apart," she says of joining her guy back in their two-room oceanfront suite at Mexico's Mahékal resort. "We get separation anxiety." As a compromise, the model sneaked out early in the morning. Jokes Aldean, "She left before I woke up, so technically I didn't see her the day of the wedding."

The big reveal came some 12 hours later. As Aldean stood at the end of an aisle of woven mats laid out on the resort's private beach, "the anticipation was killing me," admits the "Burnin' It Down" singer, 38. "It seemed like it took her bridesmaids forever to walk down!" Then, as John Legend's "All of Me" played (a song Kerr says describes their two-year relationship "to a tee"), a barefoot Kerr, in a long-sleeve lace Pnina Tornai sheath, appeared and made her way toward him. "She looked beautiful," says Aldean, who copped to blinking back tears. "I was so excited to see her." After a 25-minute Christian ceremony, Duck Dynasty star Willie Robertson (a longtime pal of Aldean; see box, right) pronounced the Nashville couple husband and wife to a crowd of 40, including Aldean's daughters, junior bridesmaid Keeley, 12, and flower girl Kendyl, 7. (Mom is his ex-wife, Jessica Ussery.) "We've been through so much, and we always wanted this to be the outcome," American Idol alum Kerr, 27, tells Us. "That we get to spend the rest of our lives together is really, really breathtaking."

GOING WITH THE FLOW

Panoramic views of the Caribbean Sea were just a bonus. Though the ACM Awards' Entertainer of the Year nominee says he would have been happy "getting married in the backyard," he admits he did push his bride to consider an oceanside venue. "I just thought it would be fun. The whole time I was growing up, I spent pretty much every summer at the beach," he explains. "I've always loved it." A trip to bohemian-style Mahékal in Playa del Carmen sealed the deal. With the site set, Kerr handed over the reins — and her coral and ocean blue-hued Pinterest board — to Nashville planner Angela Proffitt of Vivid Experiences. Through frequent meetings with the couple ("Jason's been at every one!" Proffitt tells Us), she pulled together a seafood-focused menu and natural decor (the pair wed under a canopy of manzanita branches dotted with white orchids and ranunculus). At every turn, Proffitt followed Kerr's main directive: Keep the affair "fun and laid-back." As the anti-bridezilla explains, "I'm not big on Kerr selected Sherri Hill sequin tops and chiffon skirts for her eight bridesmaids. Aldean's daughters, Keeley and Kendyl, wore modified versions of the outfit with skirts from Baby 2B Nashville.

Hunting for a Minister

» Being married by "a random preacher" is for the birds, says Aldean. "I wanted it to be someone I was close to and admire." Enter: Duck Dynasty's Robertson, his pal of eight years. (The pair met through hunting buddies.) Robertson, an ordained minister, was up for the job, telling Us, "I was honored Jason asked me to be a part of this special ceremony. I'm glad to see him tie the knot."

Aldean says Robertson's ceremony speech was "really special."

uptight weddings. I wanted it to be supercasual and easy.”

Instead of hand-calligraphed invites, their family and closest friends received phone calls instructing them to pack a bag of beachwear and fly to Cancun. The actual wedding location and details were kept under wraps — even from Kerr’s mom! “I just said, ‘Hey, it’s going to be a blast. Think of it as a fun surprise and don’t ask any questions,’” the bride explains. Guests were let in on the secret once they arrived at their thatched-roof suites and were greeted with a plate of chocolate truffles and an itinerary — monogrammed with the couple’s initials and an antler design — outlining the four-day extravaganza.

DOWN-HOME PARTY

The headlining event kicked off shortly before 6 p.m. With glasses of champagne in hand, attendees watched as Robertson spoke to Kerr and Aldean (wearing a custom tan suit without a tie “because they make me feel like I’m choking”) about growing their union. “He was comparing marriage to building a house,” explains Aldean, “and saying what we do from here on out determines whether it’s going to be a well-built home or one that could crumble. He said it’s up to us to decide where we want our relationship to go.” After his speech, the duo exchanged traditional vows — a precautionary measure, Kerr explains: “I’m an emotional wreck when I go to other weddings. I knew I was going to be a crying mess and that if I tried to speak I was going to lose it, so I was like, ‘Let’s just repeat what somebody else has said.’”

Things got more personal at the reception. At the poolside setting, where dark wood tables were lined with silver lanterns, driftwood pieces and arrangements of ivory and coral roses and snapdragons, guests loaded their plates at different food stations (think: lobster tail, sashimi tuna and rib eye) and settled in to listen to joke-filled toasts to the couple. Aldean's dad, Barry Williams, his best man, gave Kerr a hearty official welcome to the family. Says Aldean, “He summed it up by saying that if we ever split up, he's keeping Brittany and getting rid of me.” Then the Georgia native and his North Carolina-born bride, dating since 2013, shared their first dance, to Lionel Richie's “Stuck on You.” Says Kerr of the choice, “It's the first song he ever sang to me back in the day. Ever since, it's just been our song.” And then there's her song. When the DJ played Beyoncé's “Partition,” the former Charlotte Bobcats cheerleader let loose. “She was in a dance-off, with her wedding dress and all,” says Aldean. “She was full-throttle!” Explains Kerr, “I just can't contain myself when that song comes on.” It wasn't the only dance battle of the night. As the Patrón flowed and songs by Rihanna, Justin Timberlake and Sir Mix-A-Lot played (Aldean's 15 No. 1 country hits were off-limits: “It's just weird,” he says), the dance floor remained filled until 1:30 A.M. (Though the couple retired to their suite, some of their pals partied at a local club until 5 A.M.) “We had a big circle, and people would just jump in and have a dance-off,” explains the bride. “All of our friends love to have a good time. It was like a fun Corona commercial — but escalated!”

She's looking forward to keeping the party going. While they skipped an official honeymoon — Aldean returns to his tour March 26 — they both anticipate more adventures ahead. “Brittany's energetic and one of those people who sort of flies by the seat of her pants, which I like because I'm a little bit that way too,” says Aldean. Soon, they could have a new addition to join in the fun. “We definitely want kids — we're crossing our fingers for a boy,” Kerr tells Us. “But we'll probably start in a couple of years. I want to enjoy being married to him and experiencing the ride.”

Yippee-ki-yay! Emma Heming Willis gathered husband Bruce Willis' nearest and dearest at NYC's Harlow restaurant March 21 to fete his 60th year. While his daughter Scout, 23, hung with sis Tallulah, 21, who posted a photo "celebratin the big dog" (Rumer, 26, was in L.A. for Dancing With the Stars), guests Tony Bennett and Keith Richards chowed on crab croquettes and mac-and-cheese balls. A brief break from the music (everything from house to Frank Sinatra) brought toasts from Willis' wife and Scout. As Heming Willis, 36, Instagrammed the next day, "It's fair to say the birthday boy had a great time."

REESE'S TROPICAL ESCAPE

"Yes, there is a mariachi band behind me..." she captioned this March 22 Instagram of her L.A. festivities.

» Guests at Fergie's March 21 40th were dressed to kill. Husband Josh Duhamel, 42, had asked attendees to don art deco-style garb reminiscent of the 1974 film Murder on the Orient Express and dreamed up noir decor for the duo's L.A. backyard: twinkling lights above the pool and a red dragon projected onto the house. The mom of Axl, 19 months, in a white Dior gown, chatted with Kate Hudson and Kelly Osbourne as DJ Richie Rich spun. Just before a Sweet Lady Jane Triple Berry Shortcake was sliced, Duhamel raised a glass of his wife's Ferguson Crest wine, says an insider: "He thanked Fergie for being so amazing and having their boy."

FERGIE'S GLAMOROUS AFFAIR

"Josh was so sweet and rarely left her side," an invitee says of the pair, who wed in 2009.

ARETHA'S FANCY FETE

» Long live the Queen of Soul. "I feel great," Aretha Franklin told Us at her 73rd bash in NYC's Ritz-Carlton hotel March 22. A jazz band played in the Star Lounge as guests helped themselves to a raw bar of shellfish, and waiters passed hors d'oeuvres with napkins reading REE REE 2015. On hand to pay R-E-S-P-E-C-T to Franklin: Attorney General Eric Holder, Reverend Al Sharpton and Empire mastermind Lee Daniels — not to mention a troupe of mimes and showgirls hired to entertain the crowd. "She had so much fun," says a confidant. "She stayed until almost 1 A.M.!"

Makeovers OF THE YEAR

LIPSTICK-GLOSS HYBRID

Lancôme's Shine Lover glides on like a balm, delivers rich color and stays on for eight hours. Oh, and there isn't a trace of stickiness. Choose from 19 shades; Coral Lover (left) and Fuchsia in Paris flatter all. ($25, sephora.com)

GEL-LIKE POLISH

Jessica's Phenom collection mimics the best parts of a gel manicure — staying lustrous and chip-free for up to 10 days — but is infinitely easier to handle. It hardens in natural light and responds to regular remover. ($10 each, jessicacosmetics.com)

SUDSY HAIR RINSE

Unlike shampoo, R+Co's sulfate-free cleansing conditioner won't sap moisture from strands. And it's the first of its kind to lather for a squeaky-clean feeling. Karlie Kloss loves the line. ($28, randco.com)

Mega Curls

Go big or go home! Sporting pumped-up natural curls (left), L.A. native Serayah McNeill, 19, dazzled creator Lee Daniels at her audition to play Empire's pop star Tiana. "He said, 'I want Tiana's hair just like that,'" she tells Us. For glossy spirals, run styling cream through dry hair, then wrap 1/4-inch sections around a small-barrel curling iron, says NYC stylist Eugene Smith.

KMS Curl Up Perfecting Lotion, $20, ulta.com; Remington T-Studio Silk Ceramic Slim Wand, $25, target.com

Flirty Waves

Apply serum to next-day curls. While aiming a blow-dryer down, rake a paddle brush (widely spaced bristles hit every hair, says Smith) from roots to ends. Twist 2-inch sections on a 1 1/4-inch curling wand. Part on the side and loosen with fingers.

John Frieda Frizz Ease Beyond Smooth Frizz-Immunity Primer, $9, target.com; Harry Josh Pro Tools Wooden Paddle Brush, $40, dermstore.com

"I WEAR MY HAIR BIG AND CURLY MOST OF THE TIME — IT'S EASIEST. OR IN A BUN. BUT A BIG AND CURLY BUN!"

Twisted Knot

Sweep hair back using a grooming brush (Smith prefers Mason Pearson's natural bristles, which help strands lie flat), and secure at the nape of the neck with an elastic. Spritz a texturizer around the pony base. Divide hair into four sections and tease each below the band. Loop each into a doughnut and pin. Says the Fox star, "It makes the bun look so full!"

Oribe Dry Texturizing Spray, $42, oribe.com; Tool Structure Pink Tease Comb, $3, sallybeauty.com

Carol's Daughter Marula Oil Curl Therapy Softening Serum, $18, carolsdaughter.com; GHD Rose Gold Styler, $225, sephora.com

Sleek Strands

Get mirrorlike shine by prepping dry locks with conditioning oil, which “fills in cuticles,” says Smith. Straighten 1-inch pieces with an iron. “The coarser your hair, the higher the heat,” says Smith, who recommends staying below 450 degrees.

“I STRAIGHTEN MY HAIR ONCE EVERY FEW MONTHS JUST FOR SOMETHING DIFFERENT. IT’S FUN TO BE TWO GIRLS.”

THE CLUB'S REUNION

Molly Ringwald and Ally Sheedy go back to school

Thirty years after they roamed the halls of Shermer High in The Breakfast Club, Molly Ringwald and Ally Sheedy deal with a new generation's angst. While Ringwald, 47, wrangles her brood (Mathilda, 11, and twins Adele and Roman, 5), Sheedy is facing her 21-year-old's love of ink. "Rebecca has a ton of tattoos," says Sheedy, 52. "I want to tell her to stop, but I know I can't!" Us caught up with the Princess and the Basket Case before the 1985 John Hughes classic screens again (in select theaters March 26 and 31).

Q: What was it like to see the film again?

MR It's like looking at baby pictures!

AS Seeing it is fun because I remember what we did that day. I don't think I'll ever forget some of those moments.

Q: Ally's makeup scene is now so iconic.

MR The makeover was a good idea, but it should have been more of a makeunder.

AS I just wanted Molly to take the black stuff off my eyes and then leave it alone.

MR She should've pulled her hair back. Shown off her face. But it was the '80s.

Q: Still talk to the rest of the cast?

MR We all saw each other at the Academy Awards in 2010.

AS But Molly and I have our own thing. I've gotten more literate with the texting recently.

Q: What would the film be like if it took place today?

MR Different! We all would have been texting the whole time!

Ringwald (left) and Sheedy celebrated the film's 30th anniversary at Austin's SXSW festival March 16.

FOUR BOOKS THAT SHAPED ASHLEY

As a kid, Rickards faced bullies and a learning disability. Now, the Awkward star (and debut self-help author!) shares the titles that helped her live to tell the tale

THE LAST OF THE REALLY GREAT WHANGDOODLES

Julie Andrews Edwards

"The characters search for a magical land the world can't see," says Rickards. "It showed me there's more to a situation than meets the eye."

WHAT'S THE BIG SECRET

Laurie Krasny Brown

"I was an old soul," says the 22-year-old. "At 6, I started asking about sex. My parents gave me this and said, 'Don't tell your friends.' They didn't want me to corrupt them!"

ONE DAY AT HORRORLAND

R.L. Stine

"I walked into a flagpole while reading this," the Florida native admits. "Literally my most embarrassing moment of middle school. But I've read all of his books!"

THE GIVER

Lois Lowry

"The Giver taught me to question authority. I was learning disabled, and teachers said I'd never be able to memorize anything," Rickards recalls. "Now I do it for a living!"

MONICA'S EASTER WREATH

➤ Monica Potter hatched an idea for an egg-speckled door-hanging that's more than it's cracked up to be. On April 5, kids can smash the shells to find surprises inside. Says the founder of DIY site MrsPotter.com, 43, who crafts with 9-year-old Molly (above), "It's a fun evolution of an Easter egg hunt!"

SUPPLIES

- 1 safety pin
- 24 eggs
- Wax paper
- 1 small paintbrush
- Mod Podge
- Glitter in various colors
- 1 butter knife
- Bills or small prizes
- Tissue paper
- 2 packages Spanish or reindeer moss
- Fabric glue
- 1 18-inch straw wreath

DIRECTIONS

- 1 Using the safety pin, gently punch a hole at the bottom of each egg, draining the yolk over a bowl. (Save it for an omelet!)
- 2 Soak shells in a large bowl of warm, soapy water for one hour. Let dry overnight in the carton.

- 3 Over the wax paper, use the paintbrush to coat eggs in Mod Podge. Cover eggs with colored glitter and let dry in the carton.
- 4 With the butter knife, gently make a hole at the top of each egg.

- 5 Fill eggs with dollars or prizes and top with a bit of tissue paper to hide them.
- 6 Separate the moss. Apply fabric glue to the underside and affix on the wreath. Let dry for one hour. Glue eggs onto the wreath.

MOVIES

BY MARA REINSTEIN

Hart converts Ferrell's tennis court into a makeshift prison yard.

OPENS FRIDAY 3/27

Get Hard

Despite a few laughs, this raunchy prison comedy should be locked up

If the sight of Will Ferrell staring at a man's penis in a bathroom doesn't appeal to you, stay away from this R-rated comedy. Far away. The actor goes ultrabroad here as a spoiled millionaire investor with a Bel Air mansion and pretty, too-young fiancée. Then, boom! He's arrested for embezzlement and fraud and sentenced to 10 years in a maximum-security prison. Terrified and in tears, he offers $30,000 to his cash-strapped car washer (Kevin Hart) to help him toughen up and "get hard" for jail life. See, he assumes Hart is an ex-con because of his skin color — and there's more stereotyping where that came from. Watching 6-foot-3 Ferrell taking orders from 5-foot-4 Hart is a worthy gag in itself, and the stars try their mightiest to measure up to their comic personas — the former as a lovable doofus;

the latter as an insecure, fast-talking jester. Too bad the three screenwriters couldn't flesh out a smarter narrative for them! Instead, they rely on crass, repeated jokes about rape and gay panic. And a scene of Ferrell hanging with a white-supremacist gang is off-putting at best. By the final act, the entire concept is scrapped as Hart and Ferrell play bumbling cops and robbers. Haven't we been punished enough?

Watts and Stiller grow distant from their friends with kids.

OPENS FRIDAY 3/27

While We're Young

Many films examine the perils of getting older; this indie comedy perfectly nails it. Meet Cornelia (Naomi Watts) and Josh (Ben Stiller), a childless, yuppie Brooklyn couple keenly aware they're only getting more staid in their lives. No wonder they gravitate to married hipsters (Amanda Seyfried, Adam Driver) 20 years their junior. Writer-director Noah Baumbach, in classic Woody Allen style, relies on astute, relatable observations for laughs (Stiller freaks after an arthritis diagnosis). Yet no need for him to turn Driver into a villain: It's obvious that age can be our own worst enemy.

Cooper falls for Lawrence at first sight.

Jennifer Lawrence and Bradley Cooper reteam in a romance. But Silver Linings Playbook 2, this is not: Shot back in 2012, this is destined to be a footnote in both careers. They play a married couple ruling the North Carolina lumber industry during the Depression. Once Lawrence suffers a miscarriage, she turns crazy. The pair overreach as the film progressively gets sillier. Timberrr! (Also On Demand)

Kendrick Lamar To Pimp a Butterfly

Bracingly incisive, stylistically ingenious and grippingly confrontational:

Kendrick Lamar's follow-up to his breakthrough 2012 opus, Good Kid, M.A.A.D. City, officially makes him the uncontested torchbearer of West Coast hip-hop. Through 16 tracks of swirling funk and jazz-swaddled rhythms, the Compton-bred MC critiques race, street life and finding success. He better get used to it. (Interscope)

"Now I run the game," he raps.

Scott Weiland, whose album Blaster, with The Wildabouts, is out March 31, gives Us five

WANTED MAN / THE LAST INTERNATIONALE

"So gritty and soulful. They've been great opening for my band on tour."

YOURS FOREVER / GENERATIONALS

"A happy, ethereal, melodic sound from a cool little New Orleans act."

CALIFORNIA / DELTA SPIRIT

"There's a churchlike reverence in it that reverberates through my soul."

WHEN MY TIME COMES / DAWES

"Should become a classic! And they are well on their way to being huge."

BAD 'N' RUIN / THE FACES

"Required listening, especially for anyone who plays rock 'n' roll."

BY JOHN GRIFFITHS

TUESDAY 3/31

Younger

Sex and the City creator Darren Star's latest comedy is implausible yet irresistible: To get back into the youth-crazed media business, mom Liza (Sutton Foster) — 40 and separated — pretends to be 26! Liza's new coworker (Hilary Duff) and bitchy boss buy it, and thanks to Foster, viewers mostly will too. The winsome star subtly makes "younger" Liza real. Some of the jokes, however, are clearly past their prime. (Liza's generation doesn't do bikini waxes!) But Younger has room to grow. (TV Land, 10 P.M.)

Newton and Knighton meet cute after a kitchen smoke detector goes off.

TUESDAY 3/31

Weird Loners

The formula: Relationship-challenged misfits live in close quarters; hijinks ensue. But when it comes to laughs, Weird Loners one-ups its similarly themed lead-in, New Girl. Desperate Caryn (Becki Newton), commitment-phobe Zara (Meera Rohit Kumbhani), caddish Stosh (Zachary Knighton of Happy Endings) and gullible Eric (walking hug Nate Torrence) come together as quirky neighbors. Even as Caryn considers marrying a nerd to avoid spinsterhood, the humor is warm and intelligent, giving Loners the spirit of a Judd Apatow flick. (Fox, 9:30 P.M.)

SUNDAY 4/5

American Odyssey

The "Oh, no!" moments don't let up in this top-notch conspiracy drama. In parallel story lines, its three disparate heroes — a U.S. soldier (Anna Friel) in North Africa, an NYC corporate attorney (Peter Facinelli) and a Wall Street agitator (Jake Robinson) — discover secret wheeling and dealing between U.S. businessmen and Al-Qaeda. The scenes of Friel realizing she and the rest of her squad know too much are almost unbearably gripping. With Treat Williams also excellent as a not-whatever-he-seems colonel, this odyssey feels scarily credible. (NBC, 10 P.M.)

Friel is on the run to Timbuktu.

→ ON THIS WEEK

SUNDAY 3/29

THE WALKING DEAD

Norman Reedus walks in stealth.

EEK, it's the zombie drama's 90-minute season finale! Alexandria's townsfolk are still keeping Rick (Andrew Lincoln) and his group at arm's length — but trouble from outside should help them separate friend from foe. (AMC, 9 P.M.)

TUESDAY 3/31

FINDING CARTER

Prescott

Season 2 of the teen drama brings cliffhanger closure. The fate of Carter (Kathryn Prescott), abducted again by the woman who raised her (Milena Govich) and claimed to be her mom, is revealed. (MTV, 10 P.M.)

THURSDAY 4/2

LIP SYNC BATTLE

Teigen

Jimmy Fallon's Tonight Show challenge goes weekly! To start, Dwayne Johnson ("Shake It Off") duels Fallon himself, with John Legend and Emily Blunt up later. Chrissy Teigen and LL Cool J preside. (Spike, 10 P.M.)

SUNDAY 4/5

WOLF HALL

Lewis

Homeland's Damian Lewis is electrifying as England's King Henry VIII (uh, before his rotund later years) in this Masterpiece miniseries. Hilary Mantel's bestsellers provide the foundation. (PBS, 10 P.M.)

NEW ON VIDEO

James Corden, as the Baker, tries to appease Streep.

Into the Woods

Anna Kendrick as Cinderella, Chris Pine as Prince Charming, Emily Blunt as the Baker's Wife, and the inimitable, Oscar-nominated Meryl Streep as the Wicked Witch. What a treat to watch stars take on these classic characters in this lush adaptation of the 1986 Stephen Sondheim musical. These familiar icons (and more) go into the woods to seek their fortunes and become pawns in the witch's spell. Streep, as always, stands out in a forest-chewing role — though her onetime Devil Wears Prada underling Blunt (herself a Golden Globe nominee) does some beguiling work. Just a disclaimer: Despite a dizzying and delightful first half, the film ultimately devolves into a very grim fairy tale. (Amazon and iTunes, $15–$20) MR
